Objectives, Activities, and Expected/Achieved Results

The Bombarda Digital project, promoted by the Municipality of Porto and the associations Porto Digital and Quarteirão Criativo, brings together the agents of the Miguel Bombarda Quarter (Porto) ecosystem, a creative neighborhood whose boundaries and identity have been historically defined by the merchants of this specialized area recognized as the Arts Quarter. The project aims to support the digitalization of the Quarter, promote territorial cohesion through technological adoption and business digitalization, and raise awareness and build the capacity of the actors involved. It also seeks to promote urban harmonization, connectivity, sustainability, and social inclusion. It is believed that this BCD, which has a very distinct and differentiating personality, meets the ideal requirements to benefit from leveraging its physical and digital commercial experience, demonstrating a high potential for economic value, demonstration, and scalability.
